❖ Welcome to Paradise!! ❖

[National School] Toudou Gakuen

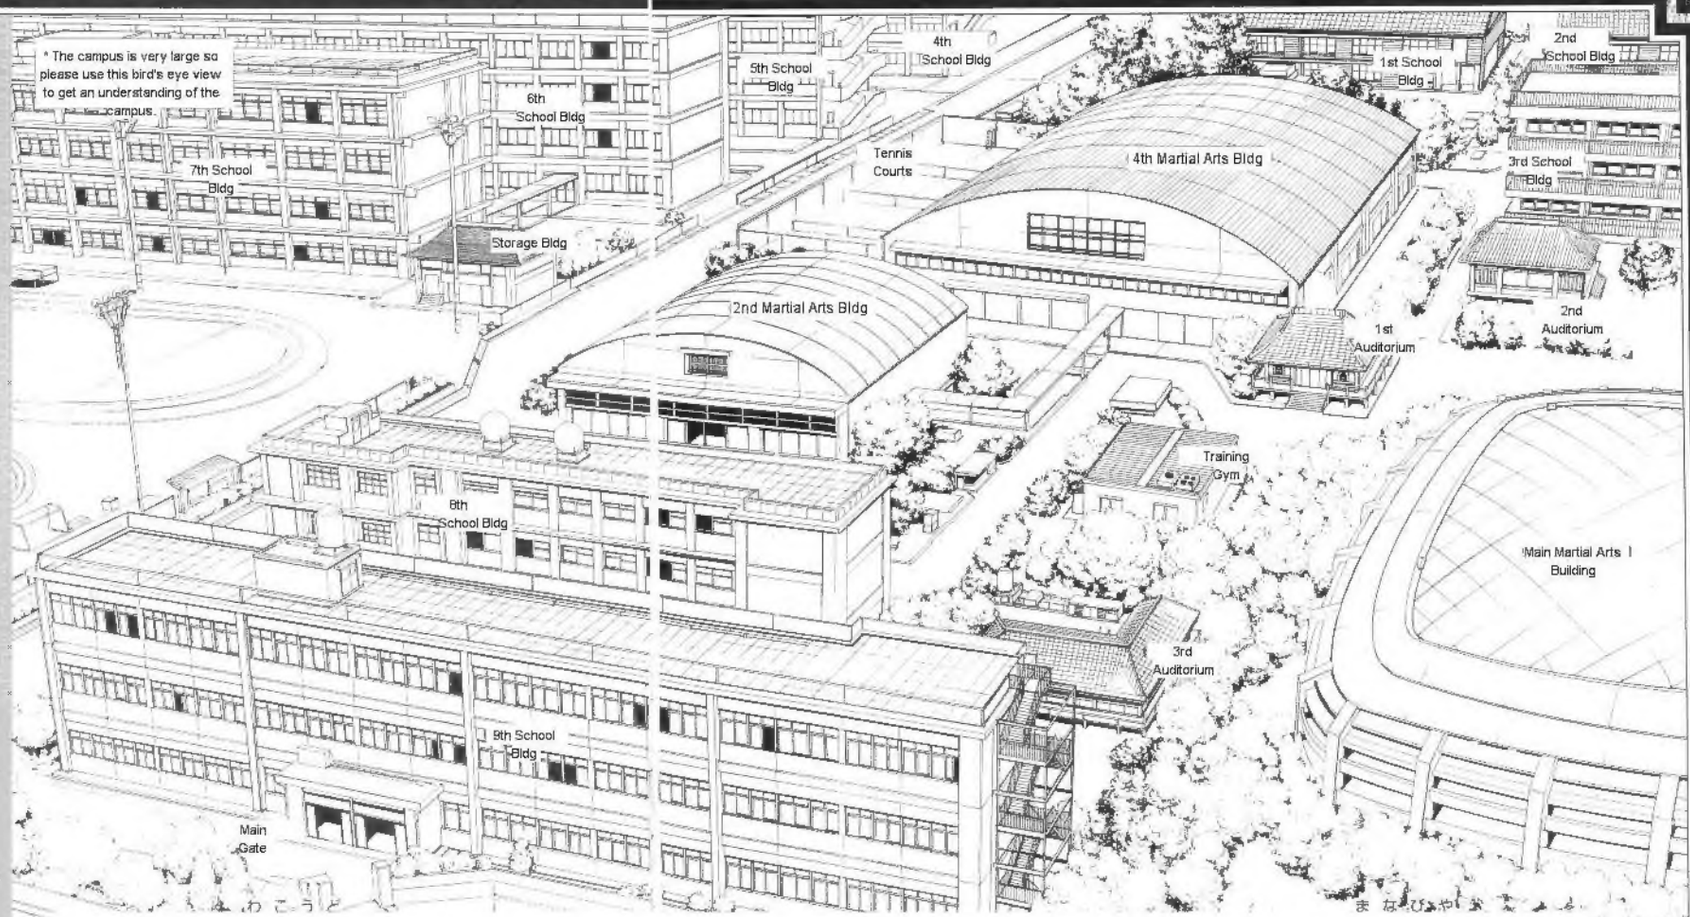
New Student Orientation

This is Toudou Gakuen, our school in Japan with the greatest history, greatest number of students, and grandest scale. It is particularly proud of the excellent results and real strength it has formed in the Martial Arts area. So will you enter into this fighting paradise? Toudou Gakuen is waiting for students that have the willingness, the spirit, and the balls to enter.

Compilation: Student Government Enforcement Group

1 fugu [Trans. Note] Kanji for Paradise is "fighting country", or "country in civil war"

Young people, welcome to the strongest, incomperable campus in Japan



●総師範

From Nakanomura Yasozou

Immediately after the Meiji Restoration, when a group with political power demolished a massive castle that was on these grounds, our Toudou Gakuen was founded, over 130 years ago. Since it was founded, almost every young person from each branch of the Martial Arts has gathered and trained here, almost like the training grounds from the Edo period. Times have changed, and in this modern age when the Japanese have lost their spirit, Toudou Gakuen continues its harsh spiritual education as always. There is a saying "A warrior waits for 3 days, and observes." We believe that these words will help the young students here to develop. For those students that want to learn about the ancient Japanese mentality, and the mentality to carry Japan forward into the future, our school gates are always open!

Not just any old teachers!

At our school, just as when it was founded, teachers are called "Model Warriors." The equivilent of a principal at a normal school is the "Model Ruling Master." There are currently 52 Model Warriors, almost all of them graduated from this school. Every one of them is confident that not just in brains, but in Martial Arts they will not lose to the students.[3]

Classes to cultivate the strongest of students

Other than the subjects that you can take at other schools, we include a special curriculum unique to this school. The history of various martial arts groups from antiquity to the modern age, special martial artist terminology of difficult kanji used in martial arts techniques, damage incurred from various forms of striking, and other charming things you can't study anywhere else that are useful to our students.[4]

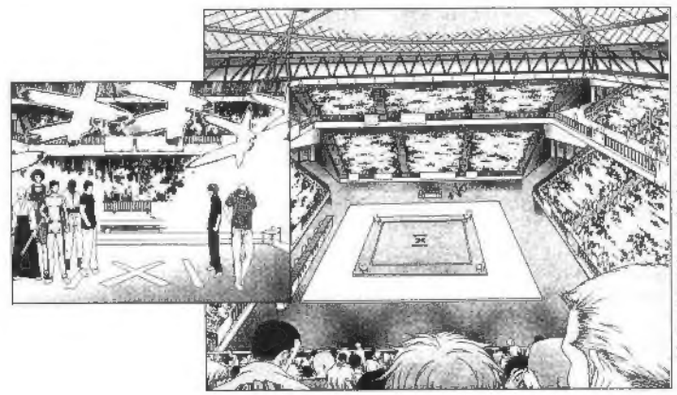
School Buildings 1-12

From School Buildings 1 and 2 which were constructed at the school's establishment up to building 12, built just 5 years ago, there are many school buildings constructed at the school as the number of students and scale increased. The campus is split in the East (Bldgs 1-3), West (4-7), and South (8-12) campuses. The East campus is hardly ever used, and since the number of students is increasing there is a plan to demolish those buildings for new construction.

Auditoriums

Auditoriums 1-3 are used by the strongest of all the groups as their group's club room. Auditoriums 1 and 2 are reserved for use by male groups, Auditorium 3 is for female groups, and they act as organizational headquarters for them. The 3rd Auditorium has been controlled by the Naginata [long sword] group ever since the fouding of the school. For a very long time the 8th Auditorium was controlled by the 1st Karate Group, but now it is controlled by the Jyuukenbu. Standing before the awesome facade of one of these buildings would make anyone aware of their insignificance.

Main Martial Arts Building



The Toudou Main Martial Arts Building is the largest privately owned modern-style stadium facility in Japan. The facility is a dome style,smaller only than the Tokyo Dome, and which we have tremendous confidence in. The main use is for the Imperial Tournament and Election Tournament that lead up to it. Club activities are not permitted. Setting foot on this stage is evidence that you are one of the school's elite. Here at Toudou Gakuen all sorts of Martial Arts Buildings exist, from the largest #1 to the smallest #28.

1 fugu [Trans. Note] Actually "Tou" from Toudou and "Bu" from Budou (Martial Arts)
2 fugu [Trans. Note] The word here, "範士", isn't teacher so much as "Model Warrior"
3 fugu [Trans. Note] The principal equivilent "統師範" is Tou from Toudou (Ruling Road [likely dou from budou = martial arts]) Gakuen, "Shi" of "Commander / Ruler" and "Model" again.
4 fugu [Trans. Note] They say "難解漢字" difficult kanji used in naming martial arts techniques – I think this is a joke about the crazy (Chinese) names given to certain moves that are yelled out and written all the time. I think it is absolutely hilarious that they would have a class on it.

Toudou Gakuen Yearly Schedule

3月 | 2月 | 1月 | 12月 | 10月 | 9月 | 8月 | 7月 | 5月 | 4月

Graduation Ceremony

Physical Education Competition

3rd Semester Final Tests

The Great Pillar festival

1st Tea Ceremony. On Jan. 7th, the first day of school, it includes a cultural element. Many exhibitions from each of the cultural clubs are set up for people to see while enjoying the tea.

Phsyical Education Competition. A class competition held after the 2nd and 3rd semester finals tests. Various events depending on when it is held.

2nd Semester Final test

Imperial Tournament / Real Battle

Imperial Tournament / Farewell party. A party to send off the people that have been selected to enter the Imperial Tournament. Ever since the Imperial Tournament started, it has been help at Toudou every time.

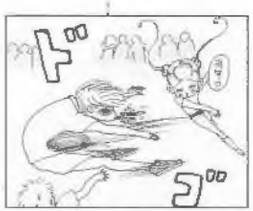
2nd semester midterm tests. Group competition battle

Swimming Meet

1st semester finals. Imperial Tournament / Election Tournament

1st semester Midterm tests

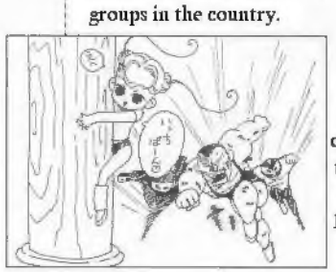
New student ceremony. New "Spirit" ceremony. A ceremony that happens after the welcoming ceremony to acclimate the new students.



The same as in December, a class competition. Last year's even was shockingly Dodgeball.

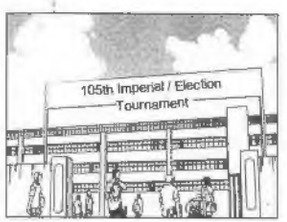
Everyone, enemies and rivals for the past 3 years, and rival groups, are all delighted to graduate. There's almost not a single person that isn't crying.

A 1 day tournament on Oct. 30th. It isn't a high school level tournament, but is instead to decide the top martial artists from all the martial arts groups in the country.



A competition on Jan. 11th that includes a New Year's festival component. A simple race starting from the training grounds, where the winner is the first to climb up a large pillar located in the old demolished building. Afterwards there is entertainment.

It's supposed to be a physical competition between all the groups, but really they only do horse-riding matches.

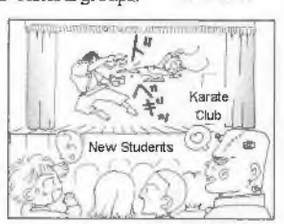


3 day Tournament from 7/17 to 7/19 that only the elite 99 martial arts groups can participate in. Only the winning team can go on to the Imperial Tournament.

The swim meet starts the summer session.

Sakura Blossom Tea Ceremony. An orientation to introduce the new students to the various cultural groups.

Budou Demonstration. An orientation to introduce the new students to the martial art clubs.



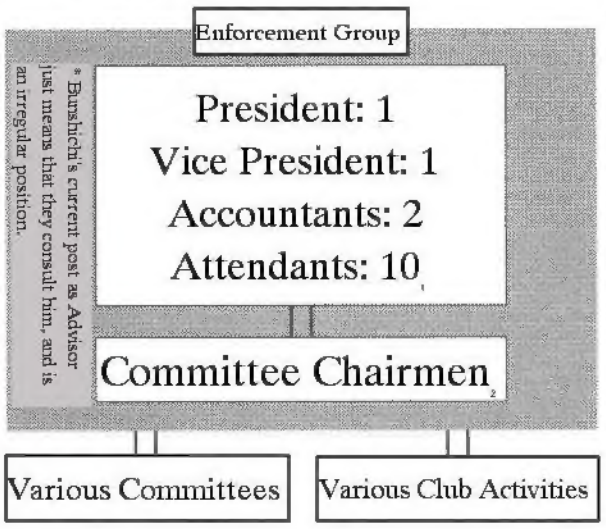
At our school we view culture and tradition as very important, and have the 1st Tea Ceremony and Great Pillar ceremonies in the new year. The 1st Tea Ceremony is the only time the cultural groups have an exhibit, so the culture groups' students work feverishly through the fall on it. Then, the winner of the Great Piller ceremony is awarded the title of "Lucky Person" that year, with the benefit that all their grades are given a boost, so all the students desperately try to earn that seat, making for a very spirited competition. Interestingly, this year the "Lucky Person" is the Enforcement Group's Advisor, Tawara Bunshichi-kun. There are many more events here at Toudou Gakuen. If you join our school, there is no mistake that you will also be able to take part in the floor of events available in this Paradise!

There are many physical event activities organized at our school. First is the swimming competition in the summer. It is a normal swimming event but includes old-fashioned swimming styles, like swimming in full armor, or swimming events for Ninja. There are also events that are only held at our school. Next we'll introduce the group competition events. One of the physical education events takes representatives from each group but only has horse-back competitions. For the groups that tasted bitter defeat at the Imperial Tournament/Election Tournament it is a good chance to distance themselves from their shame. Since it is different from Martial Arts, there are often upsets, and it is extremely hard to predict the outcome of these competitions. Next are the physical education events that take place after the 2nd and 3rd semesters. While there are many inter-group competitions, this is the only class-level competition. Each time there is a new event used for the tournament, and they are not always Martial Arts related, sometimes they are ball games. Lately the difficult to predict events have been Mongolian Sumo, Cricket, and Dodgeball, making for a very interesting tournament.

Toudou Gakuen's yearly schedule is shown above. It is quite different from a regular school's schedule. The most unique among them is the Imperial Tournament.All of the different martial arts groups from Japan participate in the Imperial Tournament, which is supposed to be a tournament that doesn't discriminate on the style or goals of the groups involved.The winner of the government-backed tournament is said to stand atop the martial arts world. Of course the winnder, and the group he is attached to, holds great influence afterwards, This competition is noticed by martial artists, fans, the media, and even politicians. For examle, the former Chief Cabinent Secretary won the event.

1 fugu [Trans. Note] "喝" is "scold" so it looks like this might be a ceremony to put new students in their place? That or I read the kanji wrong, and don't know what I'm talking about.

A Self Governing body that respects and uses students' independence



The student government at Toudou Gakuen is unique. There is no election process at all like you would have at a normal school, instead the position of the Student Government Enforcement Group is decided entirely by the winning group of the Imperial Tournament Election Tournament. The Enforcement Group consists of the President, the Vice President, and below them the Accountants who carry out the practical details, the Attendants, and finally the various committee presidents who manage the logistics of it all. Under them are the council memebers, and the various other groups.

Student Self Government Enforcement Group President Takayanagi Mitsuomi

Our school comes from a tradition of solemn, systematic regulation. Our school used to be overrun by violent anarchy but thanks to the efforts of the Student Government and each and every student, we have become a school with a level, calm manner to be proud of. To all you new students, I would like to tell you that you will be able to safely pursue your studies here.

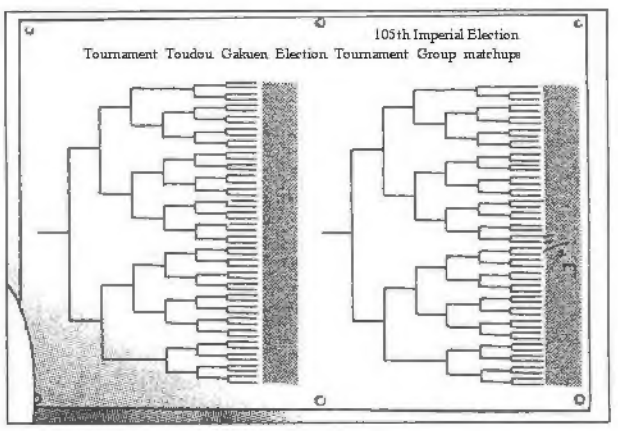
There are many groups related to sports (physical activity) at our school. There are 99 physical related groups, and 34 cultural related groups. If you want to make a new group, you have to destroy an existing group. This rule of survival has resulting in a system where all involved parties meet and confer, but usually it is decided through the Imperial Tournament Election Tournament or the group competitions. The allotment of funds and support for the various groups is also based on the results of the Imperial Tournament Election Tournament and other tournaments. In addition to the groups introduced on the left, there is also a huge amount of associations and study groups. For example, the Pro Wrestling association, baseball association, manga study group and so on and so on... They are all watching and waiting for an opening so they can be promoted to true groups.



Jyuukenbu Advisor - Physical Group Unified HQ President

Message from Model Warrior Toudou Jyuu[3]

At our school the groups, especially the physical activity groups, have a lot of power, and the Enforcement Group, which is chosen from their ranks, run and operate the school. Those of you new students that are confident in your abilities should aim for the chair of the president of the Enforcement Group! The future of Toudou Gakuen is in your hands!!

構成：岩岡寿衛　年間スケジュールイラスト：MICHELLE

1 fugu [Trans. Note] "Attendants" is what I came up with for "側衆" an archaic Japanese term used back in the Shogun days for the Shogun's personal guard that helped him out with stuff. I had to look this up in a 国語 dictionary though.

2 fugu [Trans. Note] "Various" "Committee Council" "Committee Presidents" – what I think this really is is a council composed of committee representatives from other committees.

3 fugu [Trans. Note] Again, I translate "範士" as model warrior, but it could be Professor here, if you like. Last name "Toudou" (different Kanji from the school, there could be other readings as well, this one just seems most common) Jyuu (kanji for "10" – lots and lots of readings I could use for a name, Hisashi would be my second guess.) No readings are given for the name kanji here, so I totally might have chosen the wrong ones.

4 fugu [Trans. Note] Shininryuu is "New Ying Style" Batei nenryuu is "Horseback wish style" The top ones are all clubs, the bottom ones are all "styles". Whatever that means.

Oh! Great long interview

Myths. Martial Arts. Big Boobs.

Many different characters are intertwined, interweaving the elaborate story of the Tenjo Tenge World. What are at its foundations? Oh! Great sensei talks freely about the background of Tenjo Tengefrom the start to the finish.

When I was a child I was told about and really liked the story of the Exorcism of Yamato no Orochi (Note 5) at Susano (Note 4.) That was what led directly to my interest in myths.

- Oh!Great sensei, you are from Miyazaki-ken. Are you interested in the Kojiki and Nihonshoki because it is said that they have the home flavor of your hometown?

I wasn't intentionally trying for a myth, but I've always liked the world of the Kojiki. So there has been some influence from there. And, I've taken a few references from the Nihonshoki as well. Like Souichirou's mom's spells, or the Enmi family priestess Oracle for example.

- As reference data for your work you mentioned the Japanese Shogaki and Kojiko (note 1.) Looking at those I really get the feeling that you're trying, to some extent, to depict a mythical world, right?

Influence from the Kojiki and Nihonshoki myths

"You are always asking yourself, what is true strength"

That's right, in order for the whole story to be consistant from beginning to end, you have to really include detailed foreshadowing of even small points. So as people are reading along, they might discover "Aah, so that is connect to this!" I wanted to use that sort of technique, and looked at the mythologies as a reference for it.

- That emphasizes the legitimacy of the Imperial Court's claim.

And it doesn't just end at the exorcism of the Yamata no Orochi either. The Amanomurakumo Sword comes out of the tail of the Yamato no Orochi, and through a strange series of events becomes the Kusanagi Sword, which is one of the Three Sacred Treasures. There is that kind of consistancy there. In other words, it is an important consistancy for our "real history." Modern day academics have squeezed together all of the collected wisdom and constructed this tale.[2]

- So you read the Japanese mythologies (the Kojiki and Nihonshoki) and really came to like all of that.

Yeah, well... All of the shrines in Miyazaki have a long history. When I looked at the history pamphlets, there are shrines that have 1000 or 2000 year histories all over the place. Of course they have their origins in the gods that made an appearance in the Kojiki. So of course I feel like the descriptions of the roots of all of those shrines and the mythologies all blend together, and they are all connected in the map in my head.

- Driving around to different shrines on your bike ... I can't tell if you were wild, or just turning into an old fart, but it certainly is stange for a high school student.

Hm, I don't know about that. But to put it simply, I've certainly been greatly influenced by the fact that very close to where I live has been the stage for many legends. There are countless places like that around here that have those sorts of roots. So I really am captivated by that sort of thing. I used to ride my bike (Note 9) to all the shrines around here back when I was in high school.

- But your literary style isn't really like the Imperial Court's is it? I feel like you might have a closer affinity to the people also from Kyuushyuu like Tsuchigumo (Note 6) or Hayato (Note 7), the so called "un-ruleable people" who were attacked by the Imperial Court. Jeez, this is getting so dark (laughs). Like the portrayal of Souichirou's childhood. Were there portions where you were forced to depict that sort of "blood", or passion (laughs) of the Kyuushyuu people?[3]

The original inspiration is from the part about the evil gods born when Izanami purified the disgrace from the underworld. If you look at the meaning of the kanji, it is "Disliked, ugly eyes, look ugly." A liberal translation is "It is very ugly and filthy." That is the description that Izanami gave about the underworld. He came to a bright sunny place at the small gate of the Awakihara bridge in Chiku and performed the purification ceremony. When he entered into the rapid and purified the filth[4]

●Note 2: Souichiron's mom's spells. See Volume 9, Pages 6, 7.

● Note 1: Nihon Shyouki and Kojiki. Consult page 781 in this magazine for a reference.

1 fugu [Trans. Note] Actually, instead of "from start to finish" he says "from Susanoo to Satoeri" – I think these are both places, far away from each other. I'm not sure of that though.

2 fugu [Trans. Note] This is a pretty complicated paragraph here. I'll comment on a few things. I don't know about the legend of the Yamato no Orochi, so I should look that up. The Kusanagi is one of Japan's three national treasures (the sword of the sword, jewel, and mirror) so maybe I should write a bit about that too. I know nothing about the Amanomurakumo blade. Finally, Oh!Great's talk about the academics (which really he said 優秀な人たち – various superior people) having "strangled" "collected wisdom" is strange to me – I'm not sure what he is saying, so you get my best interpretation.

3 fugu [Trans. Note] The "un-ruleable people" is my crappy translation of "まつろわぬ民" – I'm not really up on my Japanese history (I'm a computer science phd student) but from what I could gather, these are the people that did not submit to the rule of the Imperial Court (this is a long, long time ago) and hid out in the mountains, fighting. I got my info from this page: http://webmania.jp/~rerasiu/asagiri/m.html

4 fugu [Trans. Note] There are cases here where they have what is Chinese, then give some sort of archaic Japanese for it, then give a liberal interpretation. I only give the liberal interpretation because I can't understand the other stuff. Also, I don't know what the hell they are talking about here. Or what Izanami is.

- And that's why many different martial arts disciplines have ranking systems.

- That's right, which is really more powerful, a psychologically strong person, or a physically strong person. In the martial arts world, there is a saying like "No matter how powerfully you are, if you're psychologically inexperienced that's bad." But honestly, if you really got into a fight with someone that had a real power advantage over you, no matter what psychological qualities you have, you'd probably lose. (laugh)

- Psychological strength and physical strength?

No, I don't think it's about the metamorphosis of the transformation of the character. I think that people at their essence have many different facets. And depending on different circumstances, different aspects come out. For example, through the transformation of becoming physically stronger, they show a different side of themselves. I think that people test themselves through these kinds of transformations. Even if you become strong, sometimes you lose to the psychological elements that that transformation brings with it. That is what TenTen is about. In other words, it is about the meaning of true strength.

"The allure of martial arts is when you are able to conquer your fear of fighting."

- I looks like the story of Tenjo Tenge can be read as, and is depicted as the story of the growth of the first characters to take the stage, Souichirou and Bob.

Yes, they really like Susano. The interesting thing about Susano is that as you get older, your personality changes, even though you are a god. Childhood, youth, middle age, old age, they are all completely different personalities.

- Taking, for example, Mitsuomi or Shin or Souichirou, they all would be harsh gods. They all want to see Susano.

The many essential characteristics of people that have seen Susano

Let's start talking theory once we've read 1000 books. (laughs) That's a bit different from what they think in Chinese Kenpou. But I think the true nature of martial arts is in there somewhere though.

- I haven't read 1000 books or anything, but anyway I think that training will help you win.

The movement in Chinese martial arts is really cool, even though the foundations are really theoretical but I feel like it has a real leaning towards reason... Yeah, I really think that Bruce Lee was strong. It's just that his followers where somehow ... How do I say it. In the end, I think that maybe the Karate martial arts style is the essential nature of martial arts. To put it simply, it isn't just how much time you put into training, or how many times you have hit stuff.

- These Kung Fu people kind of look like they're doing costume play or something. (laughs)

Well, yes, that was the origin of my interest. But there is essentially a question. A while ago I was able to see some Jeet Kun Do martial artists, and it really is a beautiful form of martial arts. They don't really seem all that different from normal people. Certainly, they are able to move very quickly. If you just get a glimpse of Karate practitioner's hands or feet, they just aren't normal. They really look like deadly weapons.

- So the origins were in watching Bruce Lee as a kid?

When I was in elementary school there was a big Bruce Lee fad.

- Have you always been interested in martial arts ever since you were a kid?

No matter the ideals that someone espouses, if they die, they've clearly lost. Once you start to think about it that way, it becomes very hard to answer the question of what the true charactersitics of strength are. For that reason, I have all the characters repeatedly question themselves about that.

- No matter how you look at it, a gun is more powerful than a sword.

That's right. That's how fencing is today. It used to be a discipline focused on killing your opponent, and had nothing to do with your mind or soul. Once better weapons came around, that is when it became unable to escape from being linked with the theoretical aspects. That was the only way that it would be able to continue to exist I think ...

- But then again, someone who has a weapon is strong, right? If they have a weapon that could really kill someone, they would use it. An unarmed opponent would say that's cowardly though.

Yeah, I guess I really do think that Sapp is stronger. Yes, big guys really are stronger. (laughs)

- Who do you think is stronger, Sapp or Hyodoru?

No no, isn't that exactly why Nogeira beat Sapp? (Note 11) That's why I'm so deeply impressed. He was able to conquer what was close to a 60 kilo weight difference because of his technique!

- In that case, don't we just come to the conclusion that big guys are strong? It wasn't about true strength or anything at all! (laughs)

It doesn't really have anything to do with wrestling, he's just a strong individual.

- Hyodoru is essentially a wrestler but, he really can hit quite splendidly.

Miruko and Hyodoru. I really like the heavy hitters. I like pinning techniques as well but ... I guess I'm really simple after all.

- Which recent martial artists do you like now?

The starting point is from cowardice, and exactly from that weakness one becomes strong

●Note 5: Extermination of Yamatano Orochi
Yamatano Orochi was a huge, scary snake with 8 heads and 8 tails. Susanou wanted to use him as a sacrifice to save Princess Kushinada, and so got him drunk on sake, and while he was drunk, killed him. Like the first Dragon Quest.

●Note 4: Susanou
The youngest character from the Japanese mythologies. Threw a skinned horse into his sister Amaterasu's house as a violent warning like a Mafia family. Amaterasu closed heaven for this reason. Susanou was eventually banished for that reason. Susanou fell to the Cloud Country, and exterminated Yamatano Orochi.

[Fugu says: I'm not even trying this one. Didn't even finish typing in all the Japanese.]

●Note 3. The Enmi family Sorceress Oracle. Volume 9 Page 185. was named the God Yasomagatsuhino and the God Ohomagatsuhino. These two gods were born from the filth they touched when they went to the dirty underworld."

1 fugu [Trans. Note] I don't understand the "Susano ni miru" – I need to find out what Susano is first.
2 fugu [Trans. Note] I don't know what "千本突き" is. Going by the characters, "thousand," "book / main / true / real," "thrust / point."
3 fugu [Trans. Note] I do not know who Miruko and Hyodoru are. I suspect they are not Japanese since their names are in Katakana.
4 fugu [Trans. Note] I think the last part is that the unarmed person would say that is cowardice anyway.

When I first started drawing the first volume (Note 12) I immediately started to think that strength is being able to control weakness. Then, as it continued being serialized, and I kept thinking about what strength is, even now, of course

- Courage, huh. (laughs) It sounds so simple when you just say it like that. After thinking about all sorts of things and investigating it thoroughly, we finally come to such a simple conclusion.

I think "courage" is the best word for that.

- One of the points of Martial Arts is being able to control the cowardice inside you.

We're calling it cowardice, but but really what weapons are is the idea of effectively beating your opponent. A part of Martial arts and Budou is being able to control one's cowardice. You could say that the root of both of them comes from cowardice.

- But they both were born of the same essential cowardly human nature.

That's right. If you think about it from the opposite direction, humans are just fundamentally cowards and just do not want to face their enemy directly and fight. And that's why they keep on continuing development of weapons to kill their enemy from far away. Martial arts is the exact opposite. To go up face to face with your opponent and fight. And that's why you need the kind of power that I talked about before, physical and psychological, and when you first look at it this is an inconsistancy, but in the end you have to be brave.

- So the history of weapons is the history of increasing range.

To put it simply, with weapons the larger the distance between you, the more advantage you have. Even when swords had the longest reach and were the strongest, when bows were improved and their accuracy increased they had the advantage. From bows, guns took the advantage, and continuing on to now, ballistic missiles are the strongest.

I like girls that show their strength. Girls that are strong-willed, but actually have a pure part to them as well. Well, maybe it isn't that I like strong women as much as I think that essentially women are stronger than men.

- Ah, that's a bit unexpected.

Well, between Maya and Aya, that's right. But actually, I like Isuzu Emi.

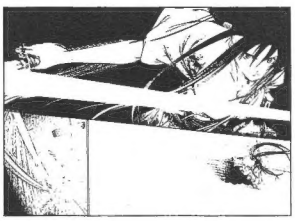
- So you like the "One-san" type.

I like them both but, if there really was a person like Aya, I don't think I would like her. I don't think I would get involved with her, someone who is so high mantainence. Maya can put you more at ease.

- Between Maya and Aya, Maya is stronger, and acts like her guardian. Does that mean you like Maya better?

That's right. I like strong women but, not in the sense of strength that is used in Martial Arts.

- The women in Tenjo Tenge are very strong, but in reality, do you like strong women?



The strength of one's mother and the relation to large breasts

I think about it but, I've started to come back to my original belief. It is because you start out weak that you are able to become strong.

"In some of their essential characteristics, women are much stronger than men"

- Do you look at that too?

Yes, I like them. It's just that their overall balance is a bit different. Their bust shots are great. But there isn't anyone that is beautiful in a full body shot from their head to their tiptoe.

- Do you like girls like Koike Eiko (Note 13) or Nemoto Harumi?

No, it's simply that I like women with large breasts. It's a visual thing. They're fun to look at.

- A popular interpretation might be that you draw all of the female characters with large breasts because you have that feeling about maternal strength.

- Maternal strength.

Yes, maternal.

When you're talking about strength, I really do think that the strongest of all is a mother's strength. When I think of all the things that my mother did for me, I don't think that I'd be able to do all of that.

- You really could say that. Women live longer than men.

- I think that Sato Eriko is the ultimate (Note 14) in Japan in that sense.

Hm, I never thought that the conversation would start at Susanou and continue on to Sato Eri.

- So I would like to end the interview on that note that you like Sato Eri.

Eh ... You want to end with that conclusion?

- Thank you for your time today.

1 fugu [Trans: Note] He says "Romani" here – I think that is short for "romantic", and used in the sense "one of the romantic notions about Martial Arts is that..." where romantic notions refers to ideal points. I just put a simple translation though.

2 fugu [Trans: Note] One-san is, of course, "older sister".

Character Explanation

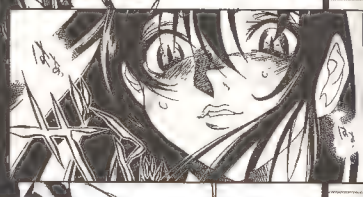
Tenjo Tenge

天上天下 CHARACTERS

Comments from Gurekichi-kun and Oh! Great Sensei!

Natsume Aya

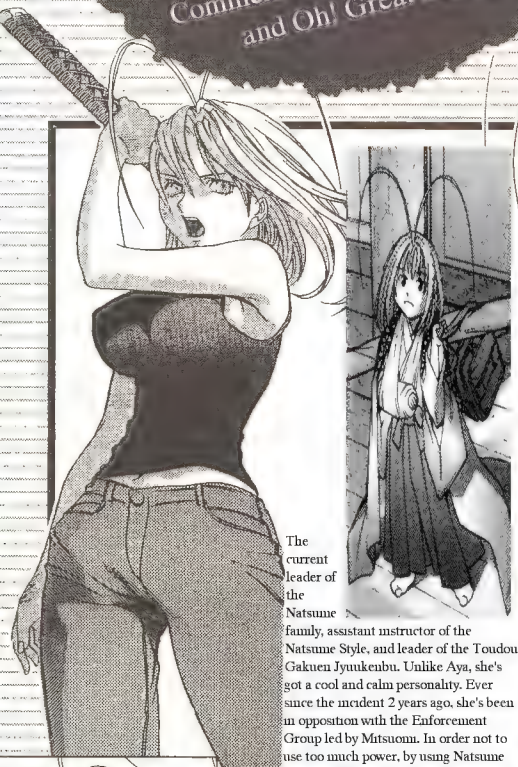
Aya has been trained in the Natsume Style since her birth, and she's better than even her older sister when it comes to sword play. Furthermore, she's a user of the Natsume Family Dragon's Gate, the Dragon's Eye, which her sister does not have. She's a pro at the Martial Arts, and has a great body, but she's still an amateur when it comes to love. Where will her "love at first sight" with Souichirou lead ... !?



Gurekichi-kun talks about the Character

Since serialization has started, "Tenjo Tenge" has taken two or three turns, but the one thing that hasn't changed is the long black haired heroine. When she swings her sword, her hair swings with it... That's the kind of flow that I wanted. But now I've come to regret it because it's so much trouble... Since then I haven't been able to catch up with all my work, and I've been sweaty as hell... Sorry!

Natsume Maya



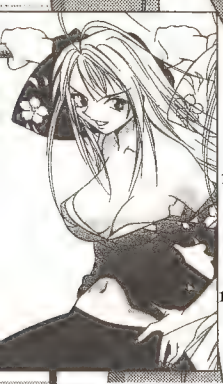
Gurekichi-kun talks about the Character

Ever since I decided on the direction of the serialized story, she was suddenly born, and suddenly became the most important character, and has had a strange upbringing since she took the stage. I've always liked the strict-looking older sister type characters, so she's very easy to draw!

The current leader of the Natsume family, assistant instructor of the Natsume Style, and leader of the Toudou Gakuen Jyuukenbu. Unlike Aya, she's got a cool and calm personality. Ever since the incident 2 years ago, she's been in opposition with the Enforcement Group led by Mitsuomi. In order not to use too much power, by using Natsume Style spirit breathing kneading control, she form elementary normally takes the school child.

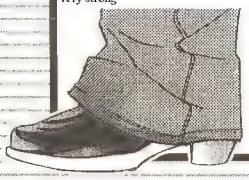
The Fearful Dragon's Eye users

When Aya opens her Dragon's Gate and is controlled by it's power, she shows you a mercilessly cruel style of fighting. Will she, who has the powers of the Dragon's Gate just like Souichirou, ever become a source of strength for him!?



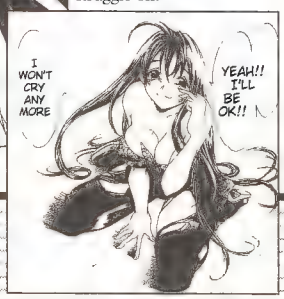
A master of the blade and martial arts!

Even just saying that she's an assistant instructor of the Natsume Style should be enough, but it is very fitting for her to be the leader of the Jyuukenbu. The techniques that she's used with her body, as well as the techniques that she's used with her fist are very strong!



Aya, who compared to her sister is very feminine, is quick to cry, and gets hurt easily... But since meeting Souichrou, she's had the power to struggle on!

Doing her best for Souichirou's sake!

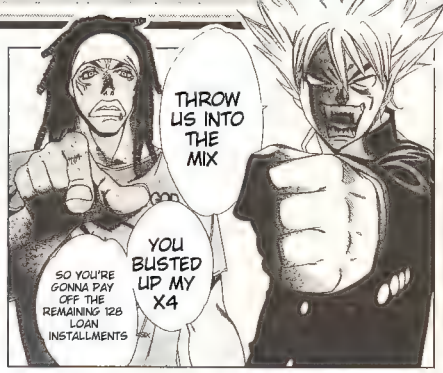


Her smiling face from 2 years ago...

The picture that Maya holds from two years ago of the Jyuukenbu. You can see Maya and Mitsuomi's smiling faces, but... Will there ever come a day when we see Maya and Mitsuomi smiling together again!?

Souichirou has always had a special talent for fighting ever since he was in middle school. Together with Bob they were called the "Knuckle Bomb" combo. He's always lusted after strength since he was a kid to protect himself and his mother from the world that is so cold and unreceptive to his family, the Demon Exorcists.

Paired with Bob, the two used to fight all the time ...



A user of the Dragon's Fist that eats other Dragons

When Souichirou opens up the 8th Nagi family Dragon's Gate, his entire body is enveloped in a black aura, and even his bleached blond hair turns jet black. The power of the Dragon's Fist is eat his opponent's dragon That eaten dragon's ability then becomes his own

Specializing in deadly attacks while in middle school, together with Bob he tied up the local neighborhood but everything's changed since he entered Toudou Gakuen. Since joining the Jyuukenbu and being beated down with harsh blows all over his body, he was awakened to the power of the Demon Exorcist within his family's blood, and has come to wield the Dragon's Fist.

Nagi Souichirou

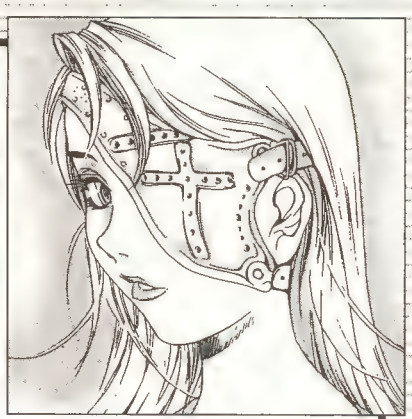
Gurekichi-kun talks about the character

This has been one of the hardest characters for me up until this point. I've never been good at drawing cool heros, so... The only thing that I knew from the start is that he would be a red feather, so he's had the responsibility laid on him since the 1st volume. It seems like he's slowly working his way into things...?

Gurekichi-kun talks about the character

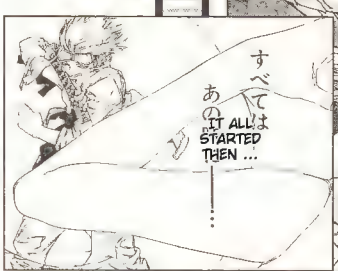
She came about as an indispensible character for the construction of this world view. Actually, she was supposed to be more involved in the past story but, but that really just made it all much more confusing, so I set things up they way they are now. We'll see more details about her relationship with Souichirou's father Souhaku... Or something like that?

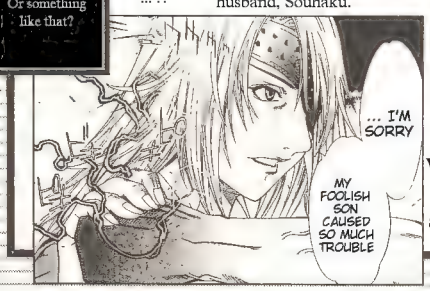
Nagi Makiko



Her ability to freely manipulate the Dragon's Fist exceeded Souichirou's power, but ... !?

Souichirou's mother, and she wields the Dragon's Fist. She's fought all over the place as a Demon Exorcist. She lost her left arm 8 years ago to her husband, Souhaku.





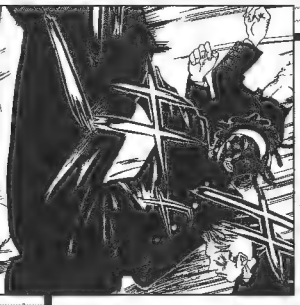
Why did Souhaku cut off Makiko's arm 8 years ago!?

Because she's Bob's girlfriend, she's gotten involved with the Jyuukenbu's fight. Incidentally, she's been Bob's girlfriend since middle school, for almost 3 years.

Gurekichi-kun talks about the Character

She's the only normal personal amoung this collection of super-beings. Anyway, she's normal. She's one year older than Bob, in her 2nd year of high school, but she hasn't had much of a chance to talk yet. It's very easy to move and draw her but I just haven't been blessed with many chances to use her.

Kounoike Chiaki



Capoeira User. Capoeira, which includes rythm as a component of Martial Arts, is the most suitable Martial Arts form for Bob. His specialty is toying with his opponent using splendid kicks while fighting!

Joining up with Souichirou they formed the "Knuckle Bomb" combo and ran wild. His father is American, and he's a second generation Japanese. He's been a friend of Souichirou's since elementary school. He's become irrated by Souichirou who has left him while developing himself, and has been continuing his development every day under Maya in the Jyuukenbu. He's a practioner of Capoeira.

NATSUME DOESN'T HAVE THE STRENGTH TO SHARPEN YOU
I'LL TRAIN YOU UNTIL YOU'RE THE SHARPEST SWORD AT THE SCHOOL
COME WORK FOR ME ...

Qualities that even Mitsuomi seeks out!?

Even Takayanagi Mitsuomi acknowledges his qualities and skills. He is of the hope of the Jyuukenbu, whose natural skills and fighting sense show that there is the possibility for him to become much stronger!

Bob Makihara

Gurekichi-kun talks about the Character

He might seem heavy, but really it's only a coincidence that he's got an iron fist. I wanted to make him more energetic and moving around more, but when I first saw him, I just thought "cool"... is the way I should do it, so I guess that's how he is. His dreads are cool but I never could draw them, and after working hard on it for a while, in the end I just changed his hair. I could never get over that in the end...

Takayanagi Masataka

Gurekichi-kun talks about the Character

He's got a regular face, but he's extremely strong. Once I established his name in the first chapter, I thought "no matter how I look at it, he's got to be the main character" but I had to reject that idea due to various things. But now in the story that is currently in serialization, his future position is becoming more clear...!? He's an unhappy character, but now he's in a really good situation!

Born as the 2nd son to the Takayanagi family, he's one of the elite that has studied various Martial Arts ever since he was a child. But he and his father have had to live separated from the Takayanagi family residence due to his brother Mitsuomi's Coupe de ta. He joined the Jyuukenbu, the group that opposes the Mitsuomi-led Enforcement group when he entered Toudou Gakuen. The fighting between him and Mitsuomi is heating up. Do we even know the extent of his abilities yet...!?

A master of the mental universe style

Masataka has thoroughly investigated many different Chinese Martial Arts but his main specialty is the Mental Universe. It is a dangerous, destructive art that sends over the Energy that one has gathered in oneself over to an opponent

A demon of dreams and illusions!?

Masataka feel in love with Aya at first sight, and has dreamed about her many times... But, even in his dreams Souichirou makes trouble for him.

The current leader of the Takayanagi family that controls the Japanese martial arts world. Mitsuomi, who took that position in the Coup deta 2 years ago, rules over the 12 Founding Families, and also Toudou Gakuen. What has he discovered in the fight with the Jyuukenbu, and the connection to the fate of the 12 Founding Families...!?

Takayanagi Mitsuomi

He has a terrible power

As the first son of the Takayanagi family, Mitsuomi was raised as one of the elite of the martial arts world from a young age. His true power is such that he can almost put out a fiercly burning fire with his "spirit" alone.

The wound he received 2 years ago

While Mitsuomi is the strongest, he's being eaten up by the attack he received from Natsume Shin, and his body can not fight for very long. That is one of the reasons that he tries to fight so effiently.

Gurekichi-kun talks about the character

I am often asked, how could things have come this far in just 2 years? I tried to explain how this happened to Mitsuomi due to Shin's attack starting off an active metabolism, but it looks like I didn't communicate it well... (Despite trying very hard.) Within the world of "Tenjo Tenge" he holds the position of being the strongest fighter in unarmed combat.

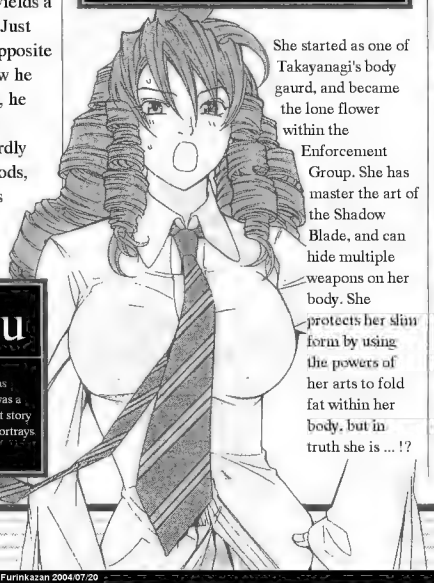
A man overflowing with chivarly who calls himself a Bushi (warrior), and wields a staff. Just the opposite of how he looks, he hates cowardly methods, and is very pure.

Tagami Shirou

Actually, I really like this guy. When I was asked to do a special on Tenjo Tenge, I was a little sad when my idea of drawing a short story about him was instantly dismissed. Just like Isuzu, he portrays the characteristics of the now extinct Japanese man.

Isuzu Emi

She's my favorite female character, but also the hardest to draw. It's very hard to get the balance right between her face and those curls. She seems really strict but in actuality she's an extremely devoted person. She's one of the so-called extinct women with the virtues of ancient Japan. She's extremely strict about showing that nice side though.



She started as one of Takayanagi's body gaurd, and became the lone flower within the Enforcement Group. She has master the art of the Shadow Blade, and can hide multiple weapons on her body. She protects her slim form by using the powers of her arts to fold fat within her body, but in truth she is ... !?

A close friend of Natsume Shin's, and founding member of the Jyuukenbu. He's currently Mitsuomi's right hand man, and works as an advisor to the Enforcement Group. He has the unusual nickname of "Double Impact Tawara", and it is rumored that he is the strongest of the normal people.

Tawara Bunshichi

My favorite male character. In some ways, he's the pinnacle of strength. He's the antithesis of Budou, and is just a naturally strong person. I think it's a bit unfair, but in reality I think that sometimes there are people like this. He's overflowing with gallant spirit. He's playing an injurious role but he used to have some very sweet points. He's currently called Double Impact because of a high speed one-two straight-armed punch, and it came to be representative of his technique, and he became a genius at fighting.

Toudou Gakuen Enforcement Group

The people who work as Mitsuomi's Sword and Shield in the Enforcement Group!

The 6 people that were sympathetic with Mitsuomi and took over for the 12 founding families when the Takayanagi Coup d'etat took place. They can be said to concretely partition the 12 founding families now. What is their relationship to Souichirou's father, Kago Souhaku...!?

Kabuto Katsumi

Commander of many white feather forces.His family's job is to be the commanders of the advance guard. He's fighting a war to unify the forces in place of the Takayanagi family. Even more than that job,compared to other families, their thoughts on "strength" are different.

THAT IS OUR JOB

F

Kagiroi Tetsuhito

He hasn't been conspicious at all up until now, but only myself and the management know that he is actually the most important secret key to F so far.

Tsumuji Mataza

The leader of the Spear troup, which goes in after the main archery forces. I modeled them after the 7 Spears of Shizugaoka. They became the 8 spears because I unified the image of Mataza's Spider and the Spears. Since it was a real pain to draw the actual machine he carried on his back, I really hesistated to do a two page spread of him. I like him because his character stands out.

Mawari Madoka

The leader of the hand-to-hand combat division that goes in after the main forces have finished fighting. I wanted to make her a very pitiable character, since her original position is very dangerous as there is a very high chance of death in the places she is sent, so they gave her that position to use her and throw her away. But I got a lot of criticism, that it was just too much. She's in middle school.

Ishiyumi Tessen

Boru at the start of the manga, he's a special character for me. I thought like I really needed a character like this, and so I made him be exactly the type to fit the bill, and is personally a kind of boring character. F started out as the base of tactical operations, so I had decided a long time ago that when the fighting started it would be led by the archery division.

The different faces of the Enforcement Group at their school initiation ceremony?

The Enforcement Group's Isuzu Emi, Tagami Shirou, and Sagara Kouji looked like this at their school initiation ceremony! Don't the 3 of them still look young and pure!?

Kagurazaka

He uses "gay Tae Kwon Doe". I haven't had a good chance to show him off yet, and I probably won't have a good chance from here on out either. My first gay character. After drawing him, I made an acquaintance with a gay man for the first time and came to understand what it means to be gay, and right then I decided I couldn't use him as much. Regrettable...

The leader of Mitsuomi's bodyguard, he is (at least for the time being) a man. He doesn't have many places to escape to, and has many ambiguous points but one thing is for sure: he's strong.

A school Enforcer, he's a muscular type that goes by the name "Saga Mask". He's the president of the Professional Wrestling research club, and a cornerstone of the Enforcement Group!

Sagara Kouji

I really wanted a grappler of some sort. This was right at the time when Brazilian Jyujyutsu was popular but I wanted a different kind of flavor, so I made him a pro-wrestler. You've gotta love this idiotic muscleman.

Ryuuzaki Tsutomu

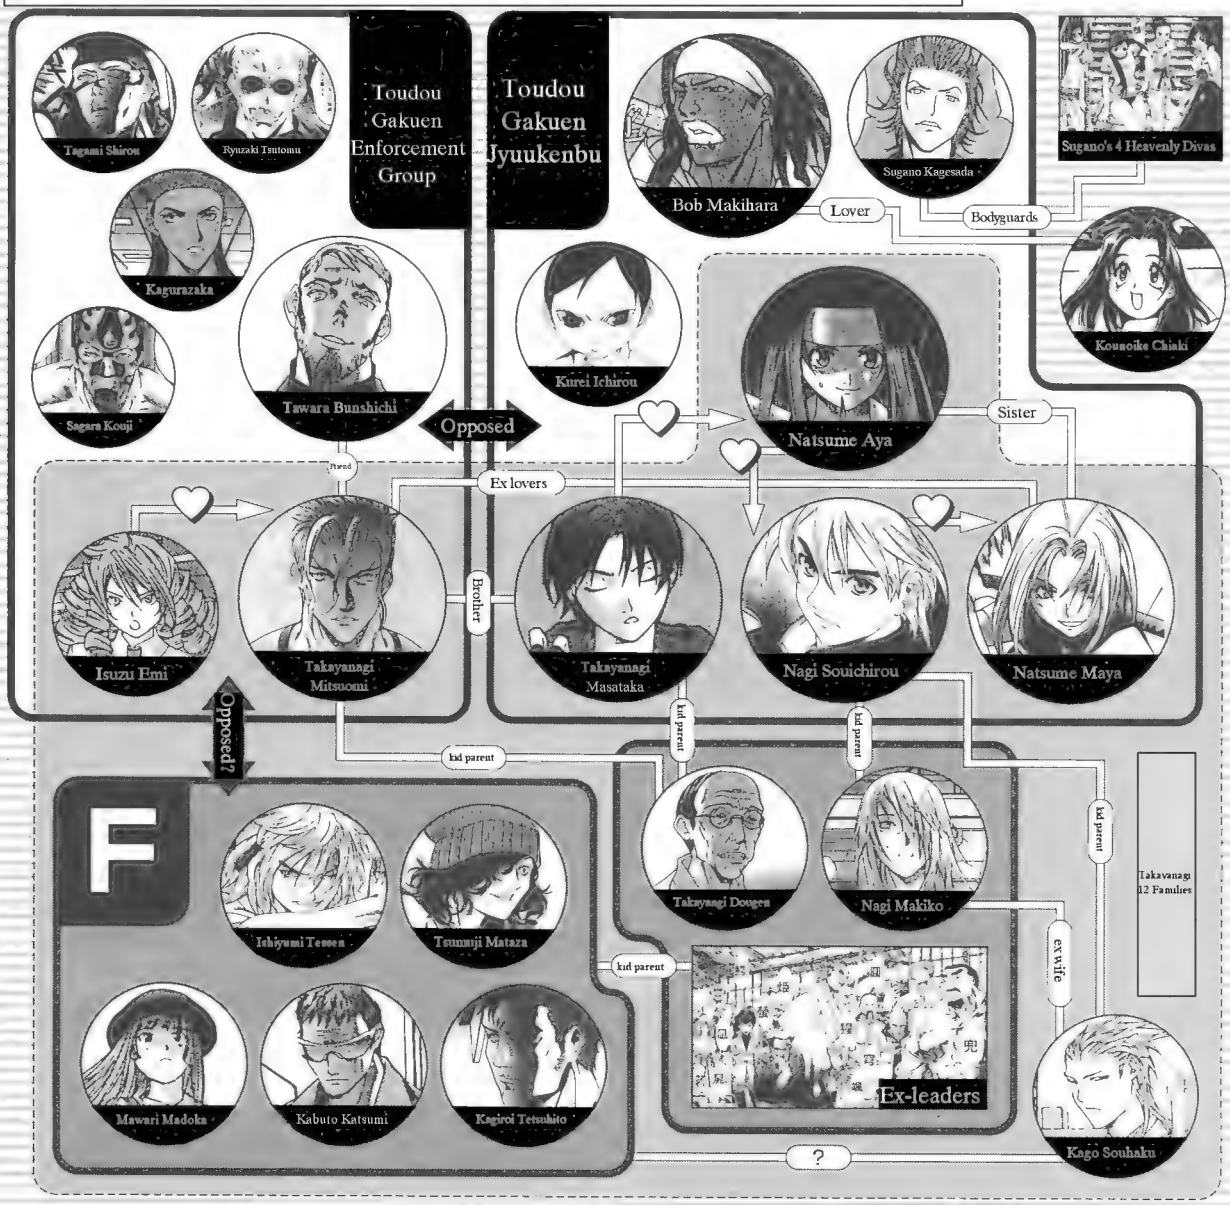
His direction has also changed 2 or 3 times since serialization started, but he's an important initial planned character. Being a flame elemental user would normally be on par with the main characters but, I feel like it was kind of a waste to give this power to him.

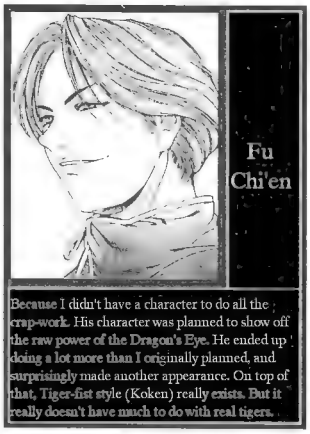
He originally never agreed with the Enforcement Group doctrine. He doesn't choose a method for the goal, but just enjoys the method itself. He fights using spirit- based flame.

T. Fuju [Trans. Note] I think commander = the first line is more like "White feather manly top of list" = so I am guessing commander.

Tenjo Tenge Character Relationship Map

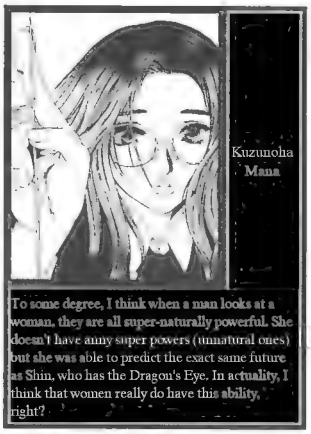
Toudou Gakuen's Jyuukenbu, Enforcement Group, and the Takayanagi 12 founding families. Once you understand the complex relationships, you will be able to better understand Tenjo Tenge!





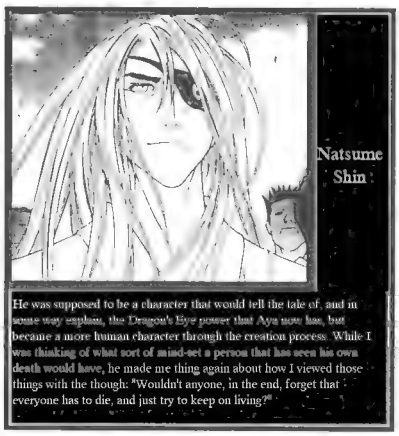
Fu Chi'en

Because I didn't have a character to do all the crap-work. His character was planned to show off the raw power of the Dragon's Eye. He ended up doing a lot more than I originally planned, and surprisingly made another appearance. On top of that, Tiger-fist style (Koken) really exists. But it really doesn't have much to do with real tigers.



Kuzunoha Mana

To some degree, I think when a man looks at a woman, they are all super-naturally powerful. She doesn't have anmy super powers (unnatural ones) but she was able to predict the exact same future as Shin, who has the Dragon's Eye. In actuality, I think that women really do have this ability, right?



Natsume Shin

He was supposed to be a character that would tell the tale of, and in some way explain, the Dragon's Eye power that Aya now has, but became a more human character through the creation process. While I was thinking of what sort of mind-set a person that has seen his own death would have, he made me thing again about how I viewed those things with the though: "Wouldn't anyone, in the end, forget that everyone has to die, and just try to keep on living?"

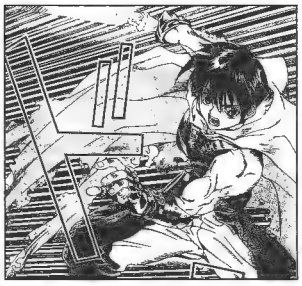
Taka yanagi Fly ing Pho enix

The Secrets of the 12 Founding Families

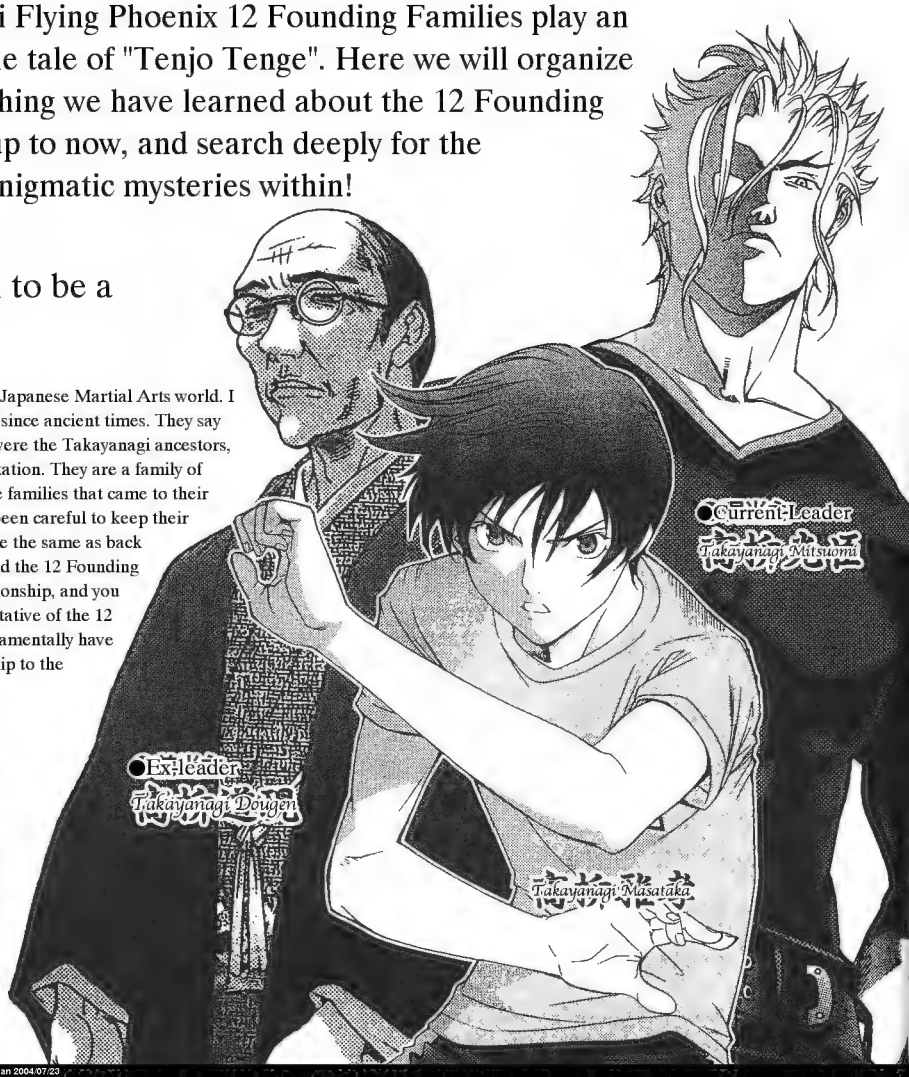
The Takayanagi Flying Phoenix 12 Founding Families play an important role in the tale of "Tenjo Tenge". Here we will organize and present everything we have learned about the 12 Founding Families up to now, and search deeply for the enigmatic mysteries within!

Just what does it mean to be a Takayanagi?

The Takayanagi family controls the top of the Japanese Martial Arts world. I don't know the details but it has been this way since ancient times. They say that the heroes of ancient myths and legends were the Takayanagi ancestors, but that is just the prevailing modern interpretation. They are a family of charismatic heroes, and the descendants of the families that came to their aid are the 12 Founding Families. They have been careful to keep their lineage pure since the ancient times so they are the same as back then. For that reason, the Takayangi family and the 12 Founding Families have a sort of counter-measure relationship, and you can say that the Takayanagi family is representative of the 12 Founding Families. But the Takayanagi's fundamentally have stronger abilities due to their direct relationship to the heroes of the past.



A heroic ancestor of the Takayanagi family... The illustration doesn't have much to do with that!



Red Feather 6 Founding Families

赤羽六家

Previous Leader Shin

秦

Natsume

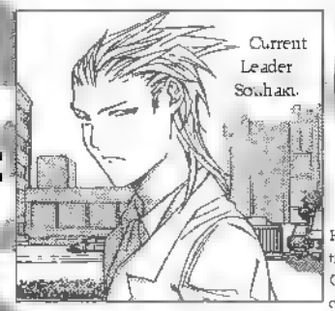
Occupying the highest position in the Red Feathers they are often called "The Eyes of Takayanagi." Using their 8th Dragon Gate the Dragon's Eye they can see various images about people and things in the future

Previous Leader Makiko

凪

Nagi

The Nagi family holds a unique position in the 12 Founding Families. Using their Dragon's Fist they can absorb their opponent's power, and make it their own. They are also called Demon Exorcists, and are despised.



寵

Kago

Holding an important position among the 12 Founding Families, they have the inheritance of the "Seirei". We still don't know what sort of Dragon's Gate he has yet. We don't know the whereabouts of the previous leader, the current leader is Soichirou's father, Souhaku.

螢

Hotaru

Using the Dragon's Palm, the Hotaru family is able to heal any sort of injury. They do not fight in any battles.

Unlike the white feathers who actually fight in battles, the 6 Red Feather Founding Families' role is to support those in battle. Each family can use different abilities based on the 8th Dragon Gate that they have, and lend an advantage to the battle through them. In some ways, they lead an even scarier existance than the spear and sword wielding daredevils.

猩

Shyoujyou

The Shyoujyou family, just like the Wani family, is at this stage completely wrapped up in mystery. Shyoujyou is similar to a live version of that monkey from Chinese legends, and should be careful about drinking alcoho...!?[2]

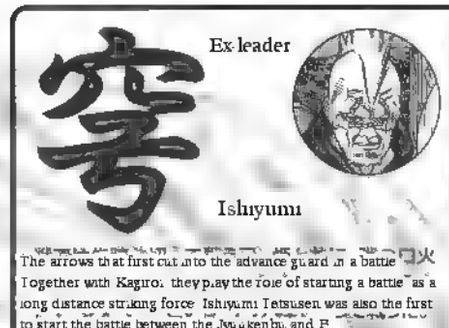
屍

Kabane

Currently, what sort of role, or Dragon's Gate this family has is still a mystery. Kabane itself has to do with corpses but...!?

White Feather 6 Founding Families

白羽六家



Ex-leader

穹

Ishiyumi

The arrows that first cut in to the advance guard in a battle. Together with Kagiroi, they play the role of starting a battle as a long distance striking force. Ishiyumi Tetsusen was also the first to start the battle between the Jyuukenbu and F

The 6 White Feather Founding Families fought as the hands and feet of the Takayanagi family in battle. Each one led a different army corps into battle. Their family names clearly reflect just what sort of corps each one led.

Ex-leader Mataza Yonhira

颯

Tsumuji

The ones that go in after the long distance attack forces are the Spear Guard. They are called the 8 Spears of Tsumuji. They say that there is essentially 8 spear-wielding families that have worked for the Tsumuji over the generations.

圓

Mawari

After the Spear Guard comes a division of true fighters who command blades and all ofther sorts of weapons. The Mawari family is a group that has mastered many types of weapons.

兜

Kabuto

Kabuto manages the 6 White Feather Founding Families playing the role of the so-called commander. The 5 groups of Ishiyumi, Kagiroi, Tsumuji, Madoka and Wani deal with the battle based on the direction of Kabuto.

焔

Kagiroi

The artillery division that engages the vanguard along with Ishiyumi. We don't know anything more than that. The current leader has a Beckham haircut and it seems like he can use the Dragon's Palm...?

鰐

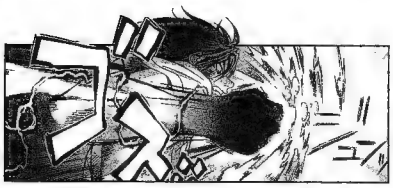
Wani

Among all of the 6 White Feather Founding Families they take care of the naval aspects and are experts in other unique areas. We do not have any information at all on their current leader.

1 fugu [Trans. Note] I have always been calling the Nagi family "Demon Exorcists," but really the kanji makes it more like "bad exorcists." I'll stick with Demon. Also, the last line there says that they are hated, but not by whom. If you think about it, the Nagi talent is very threatening to all the other Red Feathers - so I can see why they might be hated.

2 fugu [Trans. Note] The kanji for Shyoujyou means "Orangutang." I don't know what the bit about the drinking alcohol is.

What are the Red Feather's Dragon's Gates?



Nagi Family Dragon's Fist

▲ The Demon Exorcist power that the Nagi family has had for generations With that Fist one can make their opponents power their own. If the opponent's power is too strong, it can also devastate you.

Hotaru Family Dragon's Palm

▲ An extremely useful power which, due to the power left behind by their hands, any kind of injury can be healed. Apparently, only water bugs and fools can't be healed.

…STOP…
SOUICHIROU-SAN…
THAT GOOD FORNOTHING "POWER" THAT HAS BEEN WAITING INSIDE OF HER STARTED IN ON HER BODY… AND THEN MOVED ON TO START DEVOURING OUR FATE
I WON'T SAY THIS AGAIN… DON'T LAUGH
OH YEAH THERE IS, CHUMP! HEH HEH… IT'S AN EMBARRASSING STORY ABOUT THE DISTINCTION BETWEEN RIGHT AND WRONG

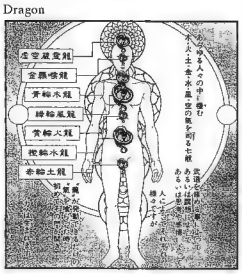
Natsume Family Dragon's Eye

▲ A power that lets one see visions of the past and future of any person of thing that exists in the world.

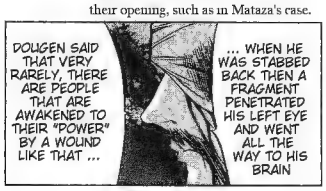
Shyukyou Family Dragon's Claw

▲ The Dragon's Gate that Mataza has on his hand, from the bloodline of the ShyukyouKabane branch family. A terrible power that can rip through anything.

▼ Every human has the 7 governing Dragons of wood, fire, earth, metal, water, wind, sky Only those of Red Feather blood though have the 8th Dragon



▼ Through mastery of martial arts, or intense meditation, one can open their Dragon's Gates, but sometimes there are unique circumstances which lead to their opening, such as in Mataza's case.



DOUGEN SAID THAT VERY RARELY, THERE ARE PEOPLE THAT ARE AWAKENED TO THEIR "POWER" BY A WOUND LIKE THAT …
… WHEN HE WAS STABBED BACK THEN A FRAGMENT PENETRATED HIS LEFT EYE AND WENT ALL THE WAY TO HIS BRAIN

The Dragon's Gates allow one to achieve great power through awakening the power of the Dragons within oneself. From the start, everyone has 7 dragons inside themselves, and on various occasions the gates open, the Dragon's are put into operation, and a power is born. But the people of the 6 Red Feather Founding Families have, in addition to the normal 7 Dragons, an 8th Dragon Gate unique to each family. We will clearly introduce the Red Feather Dragons here.

高柳家に仕える者たち

高柳家と十二宗家は、いわば対等の力関係にあるのだが、それとは別に、高柳家に代々仕えている一族が数多く存在する。高柳家御庭番とも言われる一族がそれで、その庭番を束ねているのが庭番筆頭の葛葉家である。ある時は高柳家の盾となり、ある時は影となり補佐してきた一族なのだ。五十鈴絵美が生まれた五十鈴家も、庭番の中のひとつなのである。

12 Founding Families Branch Families

Many branch families of the 12 Founding Families exist, and they say it is up to 36 now. There used to be more of them but, the powers of the Red Feather families became unnecessary in modern society, and families died out, or it became impossible to confirm the existence of the families any longer. The Enmi family is a branch family of the Natsume family. They are able to manipulate others into doing what they order, or make them see visions using the power of the Dragon's Pupil, a variation of the Dragon's Eye. We also know that the Shyukyou family, that Mataza's mother is from, is a branch family of the Kabane family.

† Fugu [Trans. Note] Here, the kanji for Dragon's Gate has a reading of "Chyakkan"
2 Fugu [Trans. Note] I don't recall this family being on the previous page event. Must be a branch family. The kanji means "Neck Owl"

Message from Oh! great

I think there might be a good number of people who watch the anime, and pick up this book but... I think this past arc collection might be very strange for people like that. The main characters almost don't show up at all in this past arc collection... Sorry but, that's just how this manga is. I'm sorry. But this past arc will also show up in the anime as well, so don't worry too much!! There are links between the story that is currently being serialized in Ultra Jump, examples of many mysteries, the rebirth of "that man", and the activities of the Takayanagi family and our main characters... In some way they all show up here. If you just glance at this book, and it seems a little bit interesting, please read it and help spread the word about the manga (smile), and make the words of this promise binding.

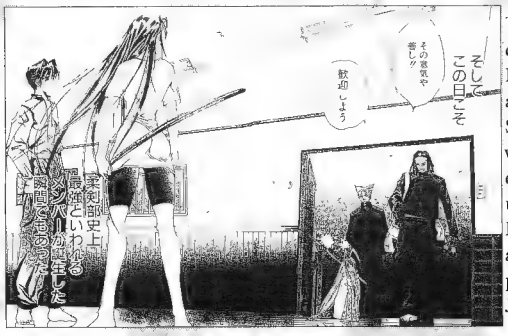
Tenjo Tenge BEFORE

We'll introduce the story of the "Tenjo Tenge Past Arc" in this digest starting on the next pages. If you know the story of the current Jyuukenbu, you'll enjoy the past episode even more!

Souichirou, a new Toudou Gakuen Student!

After he was sent flying, Souichirou landed in the shower room! Maya's younger sister Aya was there ... And she fell in love with him, and all of a sudden, kissed him!?

The Captain of the Jyuukenbu, Natsume Maya appeared before the two of them when they were busting up the school. She sent Souichirou flying with just one blow, but !?



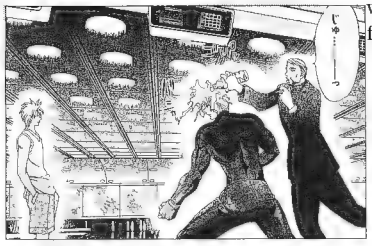
Once the pair learned that there is always a level above the top level, they joined the Jyuukenbu, and started their school life to get stronger!

The combo of Bob Makihara and Nagi Souichirou, who entered Toudou Gakuen which takes the elements of Budou seriously, thought they could use their brute force to climb to the top there. But, they were knocked out by the Jyuukenbu and Natsume Maya, and realized their own powerlessness. They then decided to join the Jyuukenbu to become stronger themselves!

The deadly struggle at the Bowling Alley

To greet their new members, the Jyuukenbu went bowling. But the old enemy of the Jyuukenbu, the Enforcement Group struck! Mitsuomi Takayanagi appeared in front of all the members as the deadly struggle was unfolding!! And for that rebellion, Maya was expelled from school ... !?

Somehow all the Jyuukenbu survived, but Maya takes responsibility, and is expelled from school!?



◀▶ついに宗一郎と光臣が対峙し一触即発…が、執行部の俵文七が現れ、闘いは回避されたのだった。

そして、2年前の惨劇が語られ始める…

真夜の退学を知り逆上した宗一郎は、真夜を想っていることを激白する。棗家に伝わる“式刀”零毀を持ち出していた亜夜は、偶然宗一郎のその言葉を聞いてしまった。茫然自失の亜夜は危険なその刀を持ったまま、学園内をさまよい始める…!?

UP TO NOW

Did you like the "Tenjo Tenge" past arc collection? This is nothing more than the prologue to story that Souichirou and Aya are wrapped up in... The Jyuukenbu and Enforcement Group have left the resolution of their conflict up to the Imperial Election Tournament but all sorts of extreme enemies show up one after the other while the Jyuukenbu is training!! You need to read how the exciting story develops!

Past arc の巻

Character and Casting Special Feature!

The stage is 2 years ago, with the appearance of cooperation at the school, the formation of the Jyunkenbu, and that event... It unfolded over 3 volumes, and compared to the current arc, had a really brilliantly burning blue flame of violence! Natsume Shin, Mana Kuzunoha, and other new characters show up, and just like Char Aznable's Ikeda Shyuuichi, we welcome the new cast of the "passionate" past arc!

Burning blue emotion

儀文七 Bunshichi Gibun

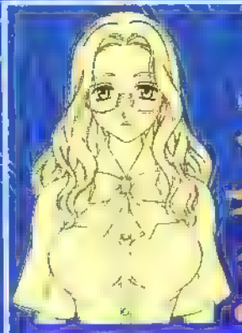
Current Bunshichi

Look at this! This unsophistication!!! In the present arc Bunshichi is a mischevious old pervert, but in the past arc he's the man I was portraying the golden age of Bunshichi.

CV Shitsuo Kazuki

The proportion of female fighters in Tenjo Tenge is just amazing, so if you know any girls like that, please introduce them to me! Ah, also, don't you punks repeat a grade like I did!

葛葉真魚 Mana Kuzunoha

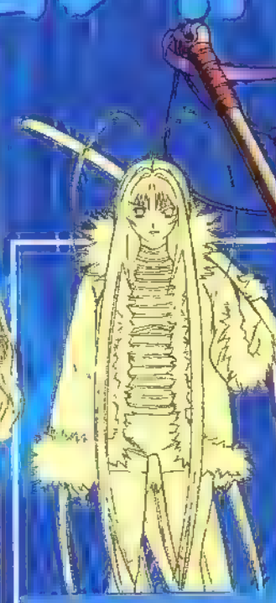


She makes her only appearance in the past arc, and plays the role of Mitsuomi's girlfriend. She wears glasses and has big breasts so she has lots of real passionate fans. She's a master of a healing form of acupuncture called Kuzunoha Accupuncture.

CV Kawahara Kishimori

I was so excited when I heard I go such a big role that I got a nosebleed (laughs). Since this character is only in the past arc, I'm going to give it my all.

棗真夜 Maya Natsume



The calm Maya who wears Japanese style clothing in the current arc was very active 2 years ago. She gives the appearance of not knowing about anything scary. She plays a very important role in the past arc.

CV Hisakawa Aya

I hope that I can convey the subtle emotions of Maya who is weaving the four-way relationship between herself, Shin, Mitsuomi, and Kuzunoha. Please enjoy this "Natsume Maya" who is different from the one in the current arc.

高柳光臣 Mitsuomi Takayanagi

A young Mitsuomi. We still haven't seen the quality in him that shows up as the boss character in the present arc, and he still has the countenance of an angelic young boy. I left. Just exactly does his past hide!?

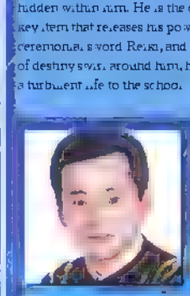
Current Mitsuomi

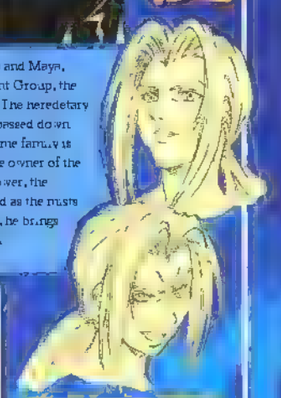
CV Morikawa Tomoyuki

I think that people who have read the manga from the start are expecting a lot, and the drama between Shin and Mitsuomi in the past arc in the anime version is very noticeable. I'm also looking forward to how things develop from here. Please watch it!

棗慎 Shin Natsume

The younger brother of Aya and Maya, president of the Enforcement Group, the head of Team "KATANA". The hereditary power of the Dragon's Eye passed down for generations in the Natsume family is hidden within him. He is the owner of the key item that releases his power, the ceremonial sword Reiki, and as the music of destiny swirls around him, he brings a turbulent life to the school.





CV Ikeda Shyuuichi

Before doing the voice overs, by chance I watched the broadcast. Natsume Shin's impact is really fierce, isn't it? I also think that there is a link from the message of the past arc "For whom do you die?" to the real world of today. Since he is the main character of the past arc, I'm really giving my best.

How does the Bob's dancing?

If you're a Tenjo Tenge fan, then you're intimately familiar with the opening, right? The ones who managed this are the people who did the play Anime "Metropolis" and under their direction it has already become famous! The miraculously forceful collaboration has brought the completion of these images! Bob and Aya's solo dance scenes really deeply grab the viewer's attention. All of this is crammed into only 7 seconds of broadcast time! Just take a look at that breakdance!

Opening Anime Theme — Rintarou

Recently lots of openings have used loud songs to express their passionate emotions, so I thought it would be great to use a light song like one from a festival in ours. It was the first time I've worked on a fusion of manga pictures and anime but I hope that people think "I want to watch it next week from the opening too".

【論集『日本書記』『神代』】

神野志隆光編／和泉書院／2,884円（本体2,800円）

ジャンル 歴史　活用度 ★★☆

天天の持つ神話的構造の源泉

日本書紀に描かれる神代の世界の研究書。古事記と日本書紀が同じく神代を語りながらも、全く違う背景を持って書かれたものであることに着目している。記紀神話の世界は天天の物語の構造に大きな影響を与えている。

古事記の記述に思想的なバイアスがかかっているのに比べると、日本書紀はかなり事務的に編纂されてるんですよ。だから神様が、それぞれ本来の姿で描かれている。資料としても使いやすい。日本書紀には相撲の起源と思われる記述があって、同時期の中国の資料と類似していることが分かる。やっぱり日本の武術は大陸の影響を大きく受けてるんだなあ。なんてことを思ったりします。（大暮維人先生談）

武田祐吉訳註／中村啓信補訂・解説／角川ソフィア文庫

ジャンル 歴史　活用度 ★★★

ヘンな呪文もコレ一冊で

古事記の訓読と現代語訳を併記。現代語訳は読みやすく、気軽に古事記の世界に触れることができる。天天では古事記の世界観から受けた影響も少なくない。というか、宗一郎の母や、巫女が口走る呪文は古事記のパクリ…いや古事記を参考に書かれているのだ。

【剣禅一如】

結城令聞著／大東出版社／1,900円（税別）

ジャンル 科学　活用度 ★★★

柳生宗矩との交流を通じ剣の世界に多大な影響を与えた禅僧沢庵。その沢庵和尚の思想を解説した書。昭和15年に初版が刊行された本を平成13年に新たに発行。「予」という一人称が戦前の剣道家らしくてイイ。

正統派武術論のネタモトは沢庵和尚

柳生宗矩が沢庵との交流を通じて、自分の剣の中に禅を取り入れたことは有名。これは思想上の重要なターニング・ポイント。天天で真夜など"正統派の強いヒト"がエラソーに語る技術論のネタモトになってます。まあ、剣が思想的になりすぎたとして批判的な見方をする人もいますが。（大雪維人先生談）

【Torquére 拷問】

空山基著／作品社／6,900円（税別）

ジャンル 画集　活用度 ★★★

“鉄の処女”を見たときのショックが忘れられないんです…

国際的にも評価の高いイラストレーター空山基の画集。独自のエロティックな表現で知られる作者の、今回のテーマはズバリ「拷問」。SMチックなファンタジーの世界が展開される。ちなみに空山氏はAIBOをデザインした人としても知られる。“この人がねェ…”などと思いながら作品を鑑賞するのもオツなもの。

拷問器具ってけっこう、好きなんです。鉄の処女ってあるでしょ。人形のカタチをした箱の中にトゲがついてるアレです。中に人間を入れて蓋を閉めるとトゲが刺さって死んじゃう。子どものころに見て“こんな道具があるのか！”とすごいショックを受けた。それが拷問器具が好きになるキッカケかな。しかし、子どものころに、どこでどうして鉄の処女なんか見たのか、自分でも思い出せないんですよねー。（大森維人先生談）

【着物の知識と着つけ】

網野鉦一著／グラフ社／1,456円（税別）

ジャンル 服飾　活用度 ★★★

和装を描くのはけっこうムズカシイ

武道を扱う内容であるからには、当然のことながら和装の人物が多数登場する。普段、あまりなじみのない着物だけにちょっとした描写も資料なしには描けない。左前か右前かというようなことは基本ではあるが、うっかりミスをしがち。

イタリアのバイク、大好きです。とくにドゥカティ。それもフルカウルのカフェレーサーじゃない古いタイプが好き。とにかく美しいと思う。この時代までのバイクは"生き物"という感じがする。つまり馬に乗るみたいな感覚。最近のバイクはドカティも含めていかにもメカって感じ。あー、それにしてもバイク欲しーっス。（大暮維人談）
